NEVILL INFANT NEWS

Dear all,

We have had another wonderful week at our lovely school! I started the week with an Autumn themed collective worship session, where we identified the signs of Autumn, talked about the different seasons, and finished with an erupting pumpkin! The children were very excited to explore the reaction between bicarbonate of soda and vinegar, although they weren't too keen on the smell!

On Wednesday, we explored RE at NRIS and talked about the different religions within our school and our own places of worship. Mrs Scott held a SEND coffee morning on Thursday, and Miss Lea talked to the children about the poems that they had been reading in school. Some children also read the poems they had been learning to the rest of the school. Y2 parents also came into school today to have a look at our sketchbooks and celebrate the fabulous art that the children have created.

We have a very busy and exciting week planned for next week. We will be welcoming parents into school for Parents Evening on Tuesday and Wednesday, and for our Harvest Festival performances on Thursday. I am very much looking forward to watching the children perform as I'm sure you are too.

Have a fantastic weekend.

Mrs Stoddart

Parent & Carer Workshops

As a staff, we are keen to help parents as much as possible and this includes delivering workshops to help understand what and how we 'do' things at school. We are more than happy to hold workshops for parents & carers on any topics if we can and can organise them for during the school day or after school or in the evening.

We do need to have a good attendance level from parents and carers if we are to go ahead so with that in mind ... if there are any topics via your class WhatsApp that you would collectively like to attend, please let us know so we can organise it. Email in to admin@nevillroad-inf.stockport.sch.uk
