NEVILL INFANT NEWS

Dear all,

It has been brilliant in school this week, more so than usual, as we have all delved deep into our fun and exciting learning of different decades.

We started the week in assembly learning all about the lunar landing, the first desktop computer, Google (which started off as a company called Backrub!!), Amazon, the birth of the internet and all about i-phones – it is amazing to see the advancements in the last 60 years and how it has shaped our lives today!

There have been some amazing dances taking place and some great songs played as well as children learning all about important world events such as Barack Obama the first black president of America, and the importance of The Beatles in shaping music.

I have also received the draft copy of our recent Ofsted visit, I have made a few corrections, sent it back and hope to share this with you all very soon.

If you are attending Bonfire celebrations this weekend, please keep yourselves safe and wrapped up warm!

Have a wonderful weekend.

Mr Whitfield

January

When Miss Lea departs for her maternity leave we are very excited to announce that

Miss Ahmed and Miss Taylor will be teaching in Lions class!! Miss Ahmed will be there Monday, Thursday and Friday.

AB Week

Anti-Bullying week takes place annually in November. This year it begins on 13th November. We will start the week with Odd Socks Day to promote our individuality and uniqueness – please feel free to have your child wear the most colourful and mis-matched socks they have!!!

PE kits

As the weather is becoming much colder please ensure your child has a suitable PE kit for outdoors. Plain black / navy jogging bottoms, white t-shirt and a plain black / navy sweatshirt. We ask that no large logos are on PE kits.

Phonics

Please remember to access the Monster Phonics e-books that have been allocated to your children. This will enable you to support your child's reading at home consistent with the way they are taught to read at school.

Parent & Carer Workshops

Following on from parent council mtg this week, it has been agreed that teachers will record video tutorials rather than hold workshops so stay tuned. If there are any specific aspects of school / learning you wish to be covered please let us know.

Gates

We have been working with the juniors to sort the gate situation and have agreed we will continue as normal.

Please note that for after school, the new automated gates system will mean parent cars cannot access the staff car park for afterschool club pick up and will remain closed except for staff leaving.
