NEVILL INFANT NEWS

Dear all,

Despite the dreaded coughs, colds and bugs flying round we have managed to have another great week which started off talking about friendship in assembly.

It was lovely to hear how our children approach friendships, which can often be difficult to navigate, through making sure everyone feels included for who they are.

On Wednesday, the staff came together to have another look at PE across the school as well as feeding back about adaptive practice. Adaptive approaches ensure teachers make intentional decision to provide children with the opportunities, tools, techniques and resources they need to succeed. This is not just making something more challenging or easier but looking at what is precisely needed to facilitate your child achieving their best.

Thursday came along with a great visitor to the school and we felt very honoured and excited so ... thank you to Miss Ivy for organising this. Becky Adlington came to talk to the children about water safety and swimming ... and of course show off the Olympic medals!!

Do not forget it is Stir-It-Up Sunday this weekend ... a chance to make your Christmas cake and give it enough time to be 'fed' weekly with goodness before the festive period.

Have a glorious weekend!

Staff Sweet Bake-Off Autumn 2023

As part of our staff wellbeing strategy we hold a bake off twice a year. Mrs Whiteley judged (as previous winner) and we are thrilled to say that Miss Spensley won this time and was the lucky recipient of lots of praise and compliments as well as a bottle of fizz!

Well Done!!

GATES

We are still waiting for the gates to be fully functional. Just a reminder not to push on the pedestrian gates whilst they are automatically opening as this can damage them.

Parent Coffee Morning

Mrs Scott will be holding a coffee morning for parents on Tuesday 28th Nov @ 9:00. If you want to pop along, you are more than welcome (there may be a biscuit!) so you can have a chat about your child and their needs.
